SOUTH CAROLINA COLLEGE.

The Graduating Class of 1849.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS. In 1846, the graduating class was the largest that ever had graduated in the South Carolina College. This class passed a resolution that every five years they would meet, during com-mencement week, in Columbia, as long as there was a single survivor. A similar resolution was passed by each succeeding class for several years, including the graduating class of 1849, which was much larger than the class of 1816, and the largest up to that time in the Next week, in accordance with the resolu tion, is the quinquenial anniversary of the class of 1849. Out of the sixty-four graduates, over fortystiil survive, and some of them have won names for themselves in the history of our compassionated State, as their armless sleeve or wooden leg will testify. I simply write to inquire of those heroes and friends, my beloved classmates, shall we not once again meet and talk over the past, enjoy the present, and plan for the future? The go old days of college commencement must be forgotten, or only remembered as we remem-ber the virtues of a deceased friend. Our Alma Mater has ocased bearing, and died of her sterility. But let not her adult sons forget her sterility. But let not her adult sons forget the training she gave them. No! no! we must oberieh a deep and lasting fondness for the good old time and place.

Hence I propose, my dear old classmates, that we meet in the City of Charleston, on Thursday, the 18th of next month, December. Will not the Charleston members of the class arrange for the meeting?

And, too, will not every paper in the State give publicity to this call? Indeed this request might with propriety be made of every paper in the South.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE NEWS.]

In the House, the following bills were read the temporary appointment of magistrates; to discharge of their duty; by McKinlay, to amend the act to define the duties and jurisdiction of county commissioners; to appoint a physician to the Charleston jail.

The following notice of intention to presen bills was made: By Guffin, to punish all persons carrying concealed weapons, except the State municipal officers; by Sullivan, for an appropriation to furnish provisions to laborers working under certain contracts.

The presentment of the grand jury of Orangeburg, complaining of the incompetency of the magistrates, was read and a discussion ensued. Ransier and DeLarge were not complimentary to Judge Carpenter, who had charged the jury. De-Large said he had sworn to discharge the duties of his office with impartiality and had been conided in, but had proved recreant to the trust.

The bill extending the time for taking the census was then considered. Wright, of Charlesdishonest, and accused DeLarge as wanting to dip his hands too deep in the treasury.

McKinlay then took up the subject, when De Large intimated that the latter was full of morphine, and the former a coward and not like Cæsar's wife. There was great confusion, but no signs of fight.

Elliott said that the House had been the of a disgraceful exhibition. All then laughed and shook hands, and the bill was passed.

In the Senate the memorial of the Labor Con vention, which had been presented to both houses, was referred to the Judiciary Committee Cain's bill for the appropriation of a million of dollars to buy lands for the poor received its first reading.

Jillson presented the annual return of the Com missioners of Free Schools of Charleston, which was referred to the Committee on Education.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

MONDAY, November 29. Any one sitting in the Senate chamber this norning and listening to the numerous notices and readings of hills, resolutions, petitions, amendments, substitutes, &c., which followed one after another in quick succession, and frequently getting in each other's way, would ha imagined that an immense amount of business was being done, and that each member could claim his per diem with a consciousness of having performed a "good day's work" for his money. But a reflection in regard to what had been really accomplished by all of these laborings would show that the amount was inconsiderable. The bill to incorporate the "Deutscher Artillerie Unterstutzung Verein" passed its second reading, Unterstation of the state of th created a body politic and corporate under the above name, and be empowered to hold and enjoy all personal and real property that may be devised to or purchased by it, provided the amount so held do not exceed twenty thousand dollars.

In both Houses was read and appropriately referred a petition signed by George W. Williams & Co., Edwin Bates & Co., Crane, Boylston & Co., Johnston, Crews & Co., E. B. Stoddard & Co., J. E. Adger & Co., A. G. Goodwin & Co., T. M. Bristoll & Co., P. D. Fanning & Co., Geo. W. Clark & Co., Henry Bischoff & Co., Bernard O'Neill, Win Gurney, and other merchants of Charleston, pray-ing that they be relieved from the heavy taxes that they had to pay first on their stock and then twenty cents for every hundred dollars' worth of sold. y.

THE CHARLESTON WATER COMPANY. Messrs, Daniel Tyler, Frederick A. Sawyer, Edward Parsons, Timothy Hurley and Alexander Gage, are the names in a bill to incorporate the Charleston Water Company, which received its first reading in the Senate to-day. They request that this company be empowered to carry water into Charleston from any river or creek within sixty-five miles of the city, to build dams, locks, &c. If this company be incorporated and carry out the plans proposed, Charleston will always be supplied with good water, and it will lead to the establishment of a number of manufactories. It is thought that this work will cost about a million and a half of dollars to carry water through the city, and it will be brought either from the or Santee Rivers. These gentlemen claim to have canvassed the matter in all its bearings, and ex amined about twenty-five places where water has been introduced in the manner proposed, and found that not only has the sanitary condition much improved, insurance risks decreased more than two-thirds, but manufactories greatly increased. The survey will be commenced as soon as the bill is passed.

THE POLICY-HOLDERS' LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY A bill offered in the Senate by J. J. Wright, colored, who, by the way, has more to say than any other two "senators," to incorporate the "Policy-holders' Life and Tontine Assurance Company of the South, received its first reading in houses. It is proposed to have the principal office located in Charleston. The bill will most probably be passed at an early day. The name of those requesting to be incorporated under the above title are among the most substantial cut zens of the State, and are a sure guarantee o the success of the company. They are as follows:

W. Williams, W. H. Ryan, Henry Blschoff, W. G. Whilden, A. S. Johnston, Geo. H. Monett, James Conner, Wm. McBurney, Geo. E. Boggs, L. D. dowry, John S. Preston, James Woodward, E. P. Mexander, Ed. J. Scott, John P. Palmer, Robt O'Neale, Jr., Wm. M. Shannon, Henry McIver, D. yatt Alken, G. J. Patterson, James P. Boyce, J. Leighton Wilson, Robt. L. McCaugha

THE STATE CONSTABULARY. In both houses notice was given that a bill would shortly be introduced to protect from ar est members of the State police for any alleged offence committed while in the discharge of their duties; the effect of which, if passed, will be to give the State constables full license to carry on heir high-banded measures. As there has be hese officials when complained of, there seems to be no necessity of legalizing their frequently lawless acts. The Executive barn-burner touches upon the "State Constabulary" in his last message and says that "there have been some cases there complaints have been made of their conduct, but upon investigation it has been found ather than with the manner in which it has been executed." That is one way of putting it, perthis proposed measure become a law the Governor, in his next message, (if he make one,) can truthfully say that there is great complaint, not only "with the law itself, but with the manner in which it is executed."

Alonzo J. Ransier, (colored,) gave notice in the House of his intention to introduce a bill requiring all banks doing business in the State, whether incorporated or not, to publish a quarterly state-ment of business, with their liabilities and assets. It is understood that this bill is projected by parties interested in the national banks in Charles ton. It was stated in the House that there is law already "on the books" requiring such statenents to be published monthly.

Ransier also gave notice that he would introluce bills to incorporate the National Indepenlent Blues, (a colored company of Charleston, and a bill to amend the act to appoint a physician to the county jail.

A "bill to amend an act providing for the enu meration of the inhabitants of the State," that is, extending the time for the lazy or incompetent census takers to report, received its second reading to-day, and has been ordered to be engrossed.

THE VACANT JUDGESHIP. Shortly after I o'clock, the special order of the lay-the consideration of a concurrent resoluion to meet in joint assembly to elect an Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of S. L. Hogewas called up. After considerable sparring, of ne special interest, DeLarge colored, succeeded in aving the consideration of the resolution inde finitely postponed by a vote of 48 to 11. These eleven, headed by Comptroller-Ge eral Neagle, who is leader of the State "official ring" to elect Whipper, colored, desired to have the election come off on Wednesday. If the election takes place at an early day, the Frobability is that Whip-

SUFFERING CUBA. A sensation was occasioned in the House to-day when R. B. Elliott (colored) introduced resolutions expressive of the sympathy of the State for the Cubans, pledging it to sustain the United States if it became entangled in a war with Spain, and advocating the recognition of Cuba. The pride the colored men felt in Elliott for having cowhided a white man was increased an hur dred fold. In a few moments' time it was resolved that a copy be sent to President Grant, and another to the Contrabandista in New York; and on motion of DeLarge, it was made the special order for Wednesday. The resolutions are as folorder for Wednesday. The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, The people of the Island of Cuba have proclaimed their independence of the Government of Spain, and for more than one year have maintained an organized army in the field, and have had a civil administration established under the title of the "Republic of Cuba;" and whereas, the said Republic has, by its constitution, abolished the institution of slavery on the Island of Cuba, and has declared to the world that they are struggling to maintain the great American principle that "all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed;" and whereas, the geographical relation of the United States to the said island, and its military importance as the key of the Gulf, reader it important that it should no longer be held by a power hostile to our free institutions; and whereas, the Government of the United States is, by its own declarations and by the common consent of mankind, the champion of human freedom on this continent; and whereas, the liberty of more than a million of Christian people, who are our near neighbors, is involved in the success of the Republicans of Cuba, who are now struggling to throw off forever the bloody yoke of Spain, the "slave-driver of nations;" be it, therefore, Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representant situations and the senate and House of Representant situation of Cuba who are now struggling to the United States to recognize the independence of the Republic of Cuba without further delay, and we hereby appeal to our government to accord such recognizion at the earliest possible day. said:

That man Richardson has driven me to desperation, for he took my wife and child from nee. I would rather save a man's life at any time than take it, but in this case I have been forced to act as I have done. Richardson has been plotting for years to rob me of my wife. On the 27th of February, 1867, she left my house at 72 Anity street. I found her on the day previous in Richardson's room, who boarded in the same house, and I spoke to her of the impropriety of the act; I found them there under suspicious circumstances; but we then made up our quarrel, for I could not believe she was unfaithful to me. On the 9th of March following, however, Richardson sent her a letter, and It fell by accident into my hands. In It he acknowledged to have written twelve letters previously, and at the close he calls her his own "darling wife," and longs for the moment when he can fold her to his arms. He also confessed in the letter that his love was not the growth of a copy of the letter and other episties of a similar character.]

She then left me, and Richardson took her to TO THE EDITORS OF THE NEWS. We noticed with much pleasure in your issue of yesterday an article headed "European Immigration to South Carolina," and hall it as a happy omen, that capitalists and steamsphip companies feel encouraged to effect an arrange ment by which the thrifty and industrious arti-sau, farmer and laborer of the Old World may, for a small outlay, be brought to our Southe shores, where there is an abundant fiel for their profitable employment. It is to this class of people that the South must look for the building r waste places, and the fostering and exten sion of that "diversified industry" which constitutes "the nation's prosperity;" and such efforts shall always meet our hearty support and co-ope-

She then left me, and Richardson took her to the residence of Mr. Sinciair, and sent my youngest child to Hoston, and I have not seen him for more than two years, and I know not where he is. Since that time I have pleaded carnestly with Richardson to give me back my wife and cease to interfere with my family affairs, but he has steadily refused to do so. Instead of giving back my child and wife, he sent his friends to offer me $10,000 and a consulship for both. But I sorned the proposition. It is not for the absence of my wife that I care so much, but for the fact that she has dishonored me and her children by living in the embraces of another man. Death would have been preferable to me at any time during the past three years, but I have lived for the sake of my children. I have heard that Richardson surreptitiously procured a divorce, but they served no papers upon me. I heard that from his friends who live near him at Woodside. New Jersey, where he purchased a house some time ago for eleven thousand dollars, but which he is now trying to sell that he may move to Wyandotte, Kansas, with my wife, because he Knows he can't live in peace with her hero while I live. DOWIE & MOISE, oct11 3mospac NOTES FOR DECEMBER, AD-DRESSED TO THE FEEBLE AND DEBILITATED. This is a trying season for invalids, indeed for all who are not blessed with robust constitutions and Cold has come upon us suddenly, scaling up the open pores, and sealing in, as it were, any seeds of disease that may have been lurking in the sys. tem, but which remained undeveloped so long as he waste matter of the body and all acid and unwholesome humors were freely discharged by evaporation from the surface and through the A tonic, aperient and alterative medicine is now eeded to invigorate the vital powers depressed by a low temperature; to stimulate and purify the peretions, and to fit the body to endure, with convenience, pain or danger, the sudden climatic change which ushers in the winter. The only preparation which will fully meet this ost universal need, and will thoroughly and safely perform the important work, is the leading tonic and alterative of the age, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

This popular specific improves the appetite, invigorates the digestive organs, regulates the flow of bile, enriches the blood, calms the nerves, releves constipation, promotes superficial circulation and evaporation, and being composed solely of wholesome vegetable elements, with a pure stimulant as their diffusive vehicle, may be taken by the weakest without fear. The flavor is agreeable, for although the Bitters are a potent medi-cine, they contain no nauseating element.

BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE .- THIS plendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the nly true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable, instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the hair soft and beautiful, black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Per-fumers; and properly applied at Batchelor's Wig Factory, No. 16 f. all street, New York.
